Nss Unit In Collaboration With Women Cell Organizes A Programme On 'Basic Literacy Programme For Illiterate Women' REPORT

Prerna College of Commerce organized a 'Basic Literacy Drive for Illiterate Women' of nearby slum area, from 25th November 2020 to 12th December 2020. The timings were from 11.30 am to 12.30 pm.

Dr. Ujwal Lanjewar Sir, Principal of Prerna College of Commerce inaugurated the programme by an introductory remark. Dr. Pravin Joshi Sir presented a welcome note. During these 15 days various resource persons conducted a class to teach them the Alphabets in Marathi, Reading and writing small words and some issues related to health and hygiene. The method adopted to teach the mentioned syllabus was personal teaching and story telling. In addition to this we have conducted various activities in which the candidates gained the knowledge with enjoyment required for their daily operations. On the last day of the drive Ms. Neha Samundre had conducted a short test of the enrolled candidates to examine the knowledge gained by the candidates through this drive.

The Valedictory Function was conducted on 12th Dec 2020 in which the Principal of Prerna College of Commerce, Dr. Ujwal Lanjewar Sir congratulated all the participants for the successful completion of Basic Literacy Drive. Dr. Bharti Deshmukh, the Head of Computer Science and Computer Application department, Dr. Shivani Katakwar, the Head of Commerce and Management department, Dr. Manjiri Pathak and Ms. Neha Samundre, the co-ordinators of NSS and Women Cell Unit were present during the function. The certificates were distributed to all the resource persons as well as the candidates. Ms. Dipawali Randive of Commerce department compered the programme and concluded with the vote of thanks. Total 21 women candidates enrolled themselves for this drive. The teaching and non teaching staff worked hard to make this programme a huge success.
